Property Description

Vista Paraiso is perched on a steep tropical hill-side above the Pacific Ocean, Vista Paraiso has a potentially great rental income. Breath taking ocean views and/ or a turnkey property management - all at a rare and attractive price point. The structure has been well maintained and having the option of 3 lock offs to it has incredible potential for rental in the area. The house is of a sturdy concrete structure, rare hardwood floors & decking (in extremely good condition). On the top floor there is a full kitchen with an open floor plan next to the ample living area, 2 bedrooms and 2 full baths. An over sized balcony that overlooks the jungle, the Pacific Ocean and the infamous "Roca". The sensible floor plan is easy to maintain, secure and allows for good circulation and great view appreciation. On the first and second floor are two identical two story apartments each with a bedroom, bathroom and kitchenette.
