Property Description

Casa Soso is more than a newly built home — it's a thoughtfully designed retreat where architecture, nature, and lifestyle come together in balance. Tucked into the hills of Buena Vista, just 10 minutes from Sámará, this contemporary residence captures tropical living with a refined, design-forward approach. Clean lines, natural textures, and curated details create a boutique feel rarely found at this price point. Bright white concrete volumes are softened by warm wood accents, tropical landscaping, and a private pool at the heart of the home. The layout centers around this outdoor space, seamlessly connecting indoor comfort with open-air living. Expansive black-framed sliding glass doors open to a covered terrace — ideal for entertaining or relaxing. High ceilings and cross-ventilation keep the home cool, bright, and inviting. Inside, the design blends modern and organic elements.
