Property Description

1,000 m² flat lot offering the perfect opportunity to build the home you've always envisioned, in one of the most privileged areas of Heredia. Located in Birrí de Santa Bárbara, a region well known for its fresh climate, tranquility, and strong connection to nature, this property is surrounded by lush vegetation, clean air, and a peaceful atmosphere you can feel from the very first moment. Properties in this area are especially valued for their serene environment and natural surroundings. Within the exclusive Sirius Condominium, you will enjoy privacy, security, and a harmonious setting where each day begins with open views and ends with unforgettable sunsets over the Central Valley. The property features spectacular mountain-surrounded views, creating a natural setting that inspires well-being and quality of life. Its completely flat topography maximizes land use, making it ideal for designing and building a spacious, modern, and functional residence, with gardens, social areas, or even custom recreational spaces.
