Property Description

Casa Pasiflora is a thoughtfully designed home in Monte Seco, Playas del Coco, offering a thoughtful mix of architectural character, natural light, and flexible living spaces. With its warm use of wood and steel and generous open volumes, this is a home that feels creative, comfortable, and easy to live in. The main residence is located on the upper level and works beautifully for full time living. It features two spacious bedrooms, each with its own en suite bathroom, plus an additional guest bathroom. The open concept kitchen, dining, and living area connects naturally to a covered terrace, creating an inviting space for everyday life, entertaining, or relaxing after the beach. The design also allows for the option of adding a future loft, offering even more flexibility. On the ground level, a fully independent one bedroom apartment provides excellent versatility. With its own kitchen, bathroom, air conditioning, and a loft sleeping area with two queen beds, it works well for visiting friends and family, rental income, or a private home office or studio space that remains separate and quiet.
