Property Description

Discover a rare opportunity to own 195,000 m² (48 acres) of pristine land in the highlands of Curubandé, Liberia, Guanacaste. This exceptional property blends natural beauty, privacy, and accessibility—ideal for agriculture, livestock, eco-tourism, or residential development. Located just 7 km from Rincón de la Vieja National Park (Las Pailas sector), 15 km from Liberia, and 26 km from Guanacaste International Airport, the property offers both tranquility and convenience. With 237 meters of paved public road frontage, access is seamless year-round. Set amid rolling green landscapes, mountain views, and nearby rivers and streams, the land benefits from fertile volcanic soil and a favorable microclimate—perfect for sustainable agriculture, reforestation, or nature-focused projects. Outdoor activities such as hiking, horseback riding, and birdwatching are abundant, while the national park's waterfalls and hot springs are just minutes away.
