Property Description

Jungle Retreat on Lake Arenal Nestled in the heart of the Costa Rican jungle, this stunning retreat on Lake Arenal is a true sanctuary for those seeking to reconnect with nature. The property is a hidden gem, featuring five beautifully designed buildings surrounded by a serene river, offering an unparalleled sense of peace and tranquility. The main building is a highlight, boasting a massive yoga deck that is perfect for hosting retreats. The space is open and airy, allowing for a deep connection with the natural surroundings. The shared bedrooms in this building are comfortable and spacious, with multiple beds and bathrooms, making it an ideal setting for group retreats or wellness events. In addition to the main building, the retreat offers three more private structures, each with its own entrance and private bedroom. These are perfect for guests who value their privacy while still enjoying the communal aspects of the retreat.
