Property Description

This turn key retreat sits in Los Angeles de Rivas, one of the most scenic valleys at the foot of Chirripó. Set on 2 hectares of land, about 20,000 m², it offers privacy, tranquility, and a seamless connection to nature. Mature trees frame long views toward Costa Rica's highest peaks and the vast expanse of La Amistad International Park, where shifting light, cool mountain air, and abundant wildlife shape daily life. The home has been thoughtfully maintained and designed for comfort and calm. Two well sized bedrooms offer flexibility for full time living, hosting guests, or creating a dedicated workspace or studio. The bathroom features clean lines and a simple, grounded aesthetic. Natural textures and soft tones throughout the interior echo the mountain surroundings, emphasizing the quiet atmosphere the property naturally provides. At the heart of the home is a cozy fireplace, an inviting feature during the cooler evenings common in the higher elevations of Rivas.
