Property Description

This beautiful home is nestled on the mountain 20 minutes south of Ojochal and 15 minutes north of Palmar. Custom built in 2013, it is clean, contemporary and cozy, with colors and decor elements that blend together to create an ambiance of understated elegance. Set on over an acre of secondary jungle, there is a substantial mature garden, with paths, seating and greenhouse areas and plenty of space for vegetables. This park-like property is beautifully maintained throughout. The kitchen and living room meld together with a splash of blue and the high-end custom-built hardwood cabinets. If you're one who likes to cook and entertain, this open floor plan will suit you. Take note of the stainless steel appliances, attractive tile kitchen backsplash, high-quality lighting fixtures. The vaulted ceilings add the perfect element of design and livability to the Costa Rica tropics, allowing the breeze to easily traverse the home's living area, day and night.
