Property Description

Los Suenos continues to be the most desirable resort community on the Central Pacific Coast, making it a prime destination for those seeking Costa Rica real estate. With its convenient location, incomparable amenities, and settings from a world class, ocean and rain forest 18 hole golf course, world class marina, beach club, and marina village with shops and restaurants, there is a reason it is called Los Suenos as this lifestyle is one that dreams are made of. One of the new residential communities in the resort is called Del Bosque, and it combines a total of 16, exclusive lots tucked into the rainforest hillside just below the Montebello Residences and lofted over the marina, village, and beach club, as well as a common area pool and entertaining palapa. This custom estate home boasts an open floor plan, with a contemporary design, and boasts partial ocean view overlooking Herradura Bay and the surrounding mountains and coastline.
