Property Description

Are you looking for the peace and exclusivity of a gated community, but with the freedom of living in a high-value residential neighborhood? This is the opportunity your investment has been waiting for! We are pleased to offer an extraordinary 622-square-meter lot, completely flat and ready for construction, located in the prestigious San Gerardo Neighborhood of Ciudad Quesada. The real selling point of this property is its environment: San Gerardo is a unique residential model in the country. Without being a gated community and without restrictive HOA or condo fees, this neighborhood features a superb community organization that matches or exceeds the security of the area's top gated developments. Recognized nationwide by the police force as a model to follow, this neighborhood offers absolute peace of mind that you won't find anywhere else. ? The Big Plus: A Community Organization That Outperforms a Gated Condo Living here means protection and well-being for your family.
