Property Description

Altamar is a private, gated compound of four independent two-story villas in Playa Langosta, completed in 2022 and just steps from the beach. Each villa offers 139 m2 of construction with two bedrooms and one and a half bathrooms - a king master upstairs and a flexible second bedroom that converts from two singles to a king, comfortably sleeping four - plus its own private plunge pool, outdoor lounge space, and garden setting. In total: 556 m2 of construction on a 760 m2 lot, bordering the tropical forest of Las Baulas National Park. The villas are already operating as successful short-term rentals, earning guest ratings above 4.8 with reviewers consistently highlighting the location, walkability, the pools, and the quiet. That's the foundation of Altamar's versatility: continue running all four as vacation rentals with an established track record, place them in the long-term market serving the area's growing community of full-time residents and remote workers, or live in one villa while the other three produce income.
