Property Description

Located at 400 meters above sea level this "one of a kind" property has it all. Ten minute drive from Platanillo, this ocean/mountain view private destination will thrill those looking for the perfect tropical hideaway. A wide panoramic view that goes for miles in almost every direction consistently catches your breath. The entrance to the property (just off the public road) is private and flanked with tropical flowers and winds several hundred feet through the forest to a private building site. Designed for beauty and seclusion and graced with ocean breezes during the day and cool mountain breezes at night, this mountain perch is a true natural jewel. At this altitude there is less humidity and slightly cooler temperatures than at the beach or about 23° Celsius at night and 28° Celsius during the day, is simply "as good as it gets". The beach is about a twenty-minute drive and offers a cornucopia of food, sports and all the spinoffs of an ocean/jungle destination.
