Property Description

Casa Tangaroa is a gorgeous contemporary home to live in at any stage of your life, whether you are giving your children all the benefits of international living or you are retired and love to have guests. It was created to capture a panoramic view of the jungle and the Pacific Ocean with complete privacy but within the well established community of Lagunas just 18 minutes from Dominical's world class surfing beach. At 1000 feet above sea level, it catches the breezes off the ocean during the day and the coolness of the mountains at night. Freshly updated to give it a light and spacious feel, Casa Tangaroa has all the comforts you would expect of a modern home in the tropics, with ample living space both inside and out. The kitchen is built to the standards of a gourmet chef, including marble countertops and the latest appliances and utensils. Its open design connects to a spacious lounge where you can relax in deep and comfortable leather sofas while soaking up the view and incredible sunsets through fully glazed floor to ceiling windows overlooking the coastline all the way to Manuel Antonio National Park, 25 miles away.
