Property Description

The truly majestic, tropical rainforest and beach area of "Caletas" is located in one of the last pristine areas left in the world. The biodiversity of the Osa Peninsula and Corcovado National Park is like no other place on earth and is a habitat to over 400 species of birds, 500 species of trees, 150 mammals, endless numbers of fresh and salt water fish and amphibians! Caletas Cove is a remote beach located between the small town of Drake Bay and the Corcovado National Park along a stretch of coast known as Caletas. The cove is accessible by boat only a short 5 minute boat ride from the town of Drake Bay, There are no roads! The beach is protected by a large volcanic rock outcropping on the west side. It helps to block the the ocean swells which keep the cove calm and allows for easy boat landing on the beach as well as fantastic snorkeling. Caletas Cove is also the perfect spot for your own private boat to be moored.
