Property Description

Ocean, valley, and jungle views bordered by a year round river what else could you ask for. This property is located at a cool elevation just below 2,000 ft which makes for dramatic views, sunsets, and the perfect temperatures. This property is unlike most that are on the market today as what is being sold here is your private 2.5 acre property and 12.5% ownership to 50 acres for personal projects such as gardens, planting trees, or nature walks. Pay a fraction of the cost of a big farm and have all the access you want to it. With a full time guard and caretaker of the common area you will be part of a very small 3 home community however feel that you are completely private situated out on your ridge top surrounded by jungle. The jungle covered mountains situated behind this property are all protected and are recognized under UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) as a biological corridor for animals and birds which will be protected for generations to come.
