Property Description

Step into your Costa Rica dreams in this spectacular four-bedroom home in Ojochal, Costa Rica. Extremely well-built and checking off every high-end detail, this masterpiece home is a nod to everything that is the most dependable and elegant in Costa Rican tropical architecture. Ojochal's real estate market has never seen a house like this before – it is simply the best property available for sale in this fast-growing Southern Zone town. A beautiful interlocking brick driveway leads up to the luxurious single-story structure. Perched at the top of a secluded 360-view ridge, this property drinks in the panoramic sunrises and sunsets from all angles. The four-bedroom, four-bathroom house has two wings, each with a master suite and guest bedroom. The two wings of the home are separated by a great room, which has expansive frameless glass doors on both sides that are perfect for enjoying the panoramas of the Pacific Coast to the west and the Talamanca Mountains to the east.
