Property Description

Are you more ocean or mountain view? Jungle or river? Enjoy all four at the same time in this superb property of more than 8 acres (3.5 hectares) with a sensational nearly 360° view. Located on the heights of Ojochal, the property adapts to all your projects, whether residential and/or commercial. On the expansive main construction site, located at the top of a hill, several villas can be built with an infinity pool of the most beautiful effect. An access path has already been built but two other driveways have also been sketched out, and would allow great flexibility of use as well as easy division into several plots. A large second construction site is located below and enjoys a beautiful jungle and mountain view. From there a path crosses the forest and leads to a picturesque stream which flows all year round, bordering the entire southern part of the property for more than 260 meters. The creek offers delightful small natural pools surrounded by lush vegetation full of wildlife, and sublime gigantic trees.
