Property Description

This is the opportunity you're looking for, lush gardens, a short distance from commerce and services, and the world's best weather. Here you can even plant your own veggies to living a healthy lifestyle. The best place to enjoy the relaxing Pura Vida lifestyle. Atenas is a small paradise located on the limits of the metropolitan area. This small town of approximately 26,000 inhabitants is considered one of the favorite destinations in Costa Rica to retire, evidence of this is that about 8.5% of its inhabitants were born abroad. A friendly vibe, a lot of peace, and the best climate will make you consider Atenas your new home. In this picturesque place, majestic views prevail due to its altitude (around 800 meters above sea level) and allowing it to enjoy an average temperature of 26 degrees Celsius year-round. Here there are no marked seasons, we only have a dry season and a rainy season, but it is usual to have chilly days during the dry season, and beautiful sunny days during the rainy season.
